THE BODY AND BLOOD OF CHRIST. SUNDAY 22ND JUNE 2025.

Mass Readings are on Page 83 in the Sunday Mass Book.

Reflection:

THE BREAD OF LIFE

What is the greatest treasure of the Catholic Church? It is the Holy Eucharist, the Sacrament of the Body, and Blood of Christ. No wonder the Second Vatican Council described it as “the source and summit of the whole Christian life” because in it the faithful “offer the divine Victim to God and offer themselves along with it.” the Council also said that “the most blessed Eucharist contains the Church’s entire spiritual wealth, that is Christ Himself, our Passover and living bread.” All that is to say that the Holy Eucharist is quite simply Christ himself. Or again, as the Catechism puts it, the Holy Eucharist is the “true Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus Christ,” under the appearances of bread and wine.

Jesus told his audience that they would have to eat his body and drink his blood in order to have life in them, and anyone who ate his body and drank his blood would have eternal life (John 6:51-58). Many of his listeners were, quite naturally, put off at the prospect of having to eat his flesh and drink his blood since they were not cannibals. In fact, many of them began to go away, saying, “This is intolerable language. How can anyone accept it?” (John 6:60).

Jesus did not call them back to offer an explanation or to say that he had been misunderstood. Instead, he insisted that he meant exactly what he said: they would have to eat his body and drink his blood. Even the Twelve Apostles did not know what to make of Jesus’s pronouncement at that time. But they decided to stay with him even though they did not understand his statement, Simon Peter spoke for all of them. He said, “Lord, to whom shall we go? You have the message of eternal life, and we believe...” (John 6:68).

Only at the last supper, when Jesus took the bread and said, “This is my body, which is for you” and he took a cup filled with wine and said, “This is the new covenant in my blood”, did the Apostles finally understand what Jesus meant on the earlier occasion. What he meant was that they would have to eat his body and drink his blood in the forms of bread and wine. But the bread and wine would no longer be bread and wine. They would have transformed into the real body and blood of Christ. They would still have all the physical characteristics of bread and wine, but the real substance of bread and wine would have given way to the body and blood of Christ. That is the process Catholic theology has traditionally called Transubstantiation.

As we celebrate Corpus Christi, the bread of life, (the Eucharist) today, may our faith in it be firm, deepened and draws us closer in devotion and adoration of the most blessed Sacrament, the body and blood of Christ. Amen.
